

Tutorial Videos on Using Scopus

No	Tutorial Video	Description	Link (Scopus Website)
1	Searching for document	This tutorial demonstrates how to use key terms to create a Document search, make your searches more specific, and work with previous searches.	https://tutorials.scopus.com/EN/BasicSearch/index.html
2	Reviewing search result	This tutorial demonstrates how to work with the many features available when viewing your search results, including how to refine the list to just the documents you need, how to set up search alerts, and to view individual documents.	https://tutorials.scopus.com/EN/Search_Results/index.html
3	Browsing for authors	This tutorial demonstrates how to find publications for a specific author, set up an alert to follow an author, how to provide feedback on author details, and also create an author group.	https://tutorials.scopus.com/EN/AuthorSearch/index.html
4	Browsing and analyzing source	This tutorial explains how to use the Scopus Journal Analyzer tool to compare publications on a variety of parameters, including how to find information about specific journals.	https://tutorials.scopus.com/EN/AnalyzeJournals/index.html
5	Reviewing document	This tutorial explains the detailed information available on a document page, including how to export, download, email, or print a document, and how to view citing and related documents.	https://tutorials.scopus.com/EN/ReviewDocs/index.html
6	Creating an alert and using My Scopus	This tutorial demonstrates how to create and manage alerts so you can be notified of new documents available on Scopus, including how to save and rerun searches, and use features on the Settings page.	https://tutorials.scopus.com/EN/Personalization/index.html
7	Registering and signing in	This tutorial explains how to sign in to Scopus, using either a personal or institutional ID and password, including how to register with Scopus to take advantage of features such as alerts.	https://tutorials.scopus.com/EN/SC_Register/index.html
8	Searching for cited reference	This tutorial demonstrates how to view the references that appear in Scopus documents, including how to find and view citing documents.	https://tutorials.scopus.com/EN/CiteRefSearch/index.html

9

Using Scopus article metric

This tutorial demonstrates how Article Metrics are used in Scopus, how they are used to evaluate citation impact and levels of community engagement, plus an introduction to PlumX Metrics.

<https://tutorials.scopus.com/EN/Metrics/index.html>

